Southwark

Southwark stretches from the internationally renowned cultural quarter along the South Bank of the Thames at its north end, with more urban Bermondsey, Peckham and Camberwell at its centre down to leafy Dulwich at its Southern tip. It incorporates 5 major parks and open spaces suitable for and large scale events.

With the highest proportion of 25-40 year olds living in London, Southwark is the youngest and arguably most vibrant place in the city.

Southwark is an inspiring, progressive and entrepreneurial borough. It's home to many of London's most iconic attractions including London Bridge, The Shard, Tate Modern, Shakespeare's Globe, Borough Market, Imperial War Museum, Dulwich Picture Gallery and new cultural hub Peckham and Bermondsey.

Geraldine Mary Harmsworth Park

Home to the Imperial War Museum, Geraldine Mary Harmsworth Park is a grand location visited by thousands every year.

The Dalai Lama opened a Tibetan Peace Garden in the east side of the park in 1999. The west side remains as open grass land making it a great place for medium to large scale events
